

Argyll & The Isles

News and Views from around the Diocese

Number 86 - Spring 2007

ST ADAMNAN'S DUROR

There is little to report from Duror: we have become used now to our fortnightly service starting at 9.30 am and we have reverted to the original second and fourth Sundays in the month. We now look forward to the arrival of a new notice board, by kindness of Philippa Sutherland, which will replace the old one which several years ago was made, painted and lettered by the late Revd. John Kent, one-time Vicar of Selby who lived amongst us and took services for us in Duror for many years. Even should the schedule of services change again, the new board will be flexible and by virtue of sliders will be able to accommodate any timetable eventuality.

An account may well appear elsewhere in the Argyll & the Isles about the performance of Bach's St John Passion which took place in our cathedral in Oban on Passion Sunday. It was a superb performance and Bishop Martin sang the part of Christ in what was a spiritually and musically a most moving occasion. About twelve people from Duror were in the congregation - should it be audience?

The new scheduling of services and celebrants has resulted in Revd. Kit Jarman no longer coming to St Adamnan's on the first Sunday of each month. We shall miss him and would like him to know that! We appreciated his contribution to our worship and his thought-provoking sermons. I ought not to mention that his need for a cigarette made his sermons quite short... Thanks Kit.

Perhaps the highlight of recent weeks was the Baptism of Eilidh Lamb, the daughter of Susan (nee MacColl) and Steven (see picture below), and granddaughter of Innes and Agnes MacColl which took place in St. Adamnan's and which was followed by a superb lunch in the Village Hall. Thanks to them too!

Eilidh with grandparents Agnes and Innes
after the Baptism .

Back to AT186online.htm

Back to Argyll Index Page

Home